REPORTS AND RESOLUTIONS.

Several Constitutional Amendments Were Adopted, and Several Failed to Carry. The City of Baltimore Will Probably Receive the Next Convention—Doings of the Last Day.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 22.—Yesterday's session of the Woman's Christian Temperance union was opened with a prayer by Mrs. Katharine Lente Stevenson. Then followed the minutes of the executive committee meetings which had not already been reported to the convention. The report included the appropriation of $4,000 for the national superintendents, the organizers and lecturers of the union into a board, which will report at future conventions, the recommendation of the creation of a fund for the distribution of literature, the recommendation for the adoption of the temple committee report and a by-law providing that the state unions shall not be bound by the policy or laws of the national, except in regard to total abstinence and the constitutional rulings of the nation.

A heated discussion then arose over the adoption of the temple report, in which a number of delegates participated. After a very exciting debate the committee's report was finally unanimously adopted.

Then followed the introduction of the Cleveland ladies whose efforts were instrumental in making the convention the success it was. A very pretty exercise and an eminently appropriate one followed. With a pleasant little address Mrs. Levering of Cleveland presented to Mrs. Alice Harris, the national superintendent of music, a huge bouquet of very beautiful roses. Mrs. Harris responded feelingly and then sang "We'll Never Say Good-by."

The report of the resolutions committee was next presented and distributed through the audience. The report dwells at length upon the following subjects: "Young People's Societies," "Sabbath Observation," "W. T. P. A." "Equality of Citizenship," "Equality in Morals," "Amusements," "Alcoholic Cures," "The Daily Press," "Strikes," "Work Among Colored People," "Labor Questions" and "Prohibition." The report concludes as follows:

"Resolved. That we render our thanks to the federated unions of Cleveland for their complete arrangements for the success of the convention, to the people of the city for their gracious hospitality, to the pastors of the churches, who have welcomed us to their pulpits, and to all who have contributed to the success of the convention."

In the afternoon the report of the resolutions committee was again taken up and new resolutions were added. A long discussion of boys' brigades, and a somewhat heated one, was started by a resolution protesting against putting arms in the hands of boys. Other resolutions adopted were one deploring the Armenian fiasco and advocating international protection, one denouncing the increase of military education in public schools, colleges and universities, and one which raised much controversy thanking the Populists for the suffrage plank in the platform in Kansas, thanking the Republicans for the same thing in Colorado, and thanking the Democrats of the south for bringing a large area under local option laws. The resolution was adopted after much discussion.

Several constitutional amendments were adopted, and several failed to carry. Mrs. Smeal of Massachusetts introduced two amendments conferring more power on department superintendents, which were lost. An amendment that was adopted provided that biennial sessions should be held when it was deemed advisable.

The close of the session was quite impressive. Miss Willard spoke briefly, thanking the delegates for their kindness to her and telling them how strong and well she felt.

Adjournment was moved by Mrs. Forbes of Connecticut, and the motion was carried.

"God Be With You Till We Meet Again," and the doxology were sung, and Miss Carrie Smith pronounced the benediction.

Immediately after adjournment Miss Willard was asked in what city the next convention would be held, she said: "It is not decided, but between you and me, it looks like Baltimore."

Death of Judge Robinson.

TROY, N. Y., Nov. 22.—Judge James T. Robinson died yesterday afternoon in North Adams, Mass., after a lingering illness, at the age of 72 years. He was editor of the North Adams Transcript, and an able writer. He was also judge of probate. He was one of the organizers of the Republican party in Massachusetts and a delegate-at-large to the convention which nominated Abraham Lincoln. Judge Robinson was a lineal descendant of Pastor John Robinson of Leydon, who preached to the Puritans before they sailed for America.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The postmaster general has about completed his annual report for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1894, and it will be formally presented to the president in a few days. It is understood that it will contain recommendations on certain lines of the postal service, which, if acted upon, will have an important and permanent bearing upon the efficiency and revenue of the service. He makes special and interesting recommendations as to second class matter, the postal telegraph and the civil service.

MAKE IT TREASON, says Judge Henry of All Election Frauds and Forgeries.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 22.—The argument on the application made by W. T. Jamison for an injunction to prevent J. C. Bremnerman from accepting a commission as prosecuting attorney of Jackson county was heard before Judge Henry in the circuit court yesterday. The grounds for asking such action by the court are that Bremnerman's certificate was issued on the strength of forgery of the election returns. Judge Henry refused to grant the injunction. The proceeding, he said, was a novel one. The court was asked to decide which of the two contestants should be the plaintiff in a contest. No court had ever gone so far as that. He suggested that the plaintiffs bring mandamus proceedings to compel the canvassers to re-canvass the vote. In the course of his opinion Judge Henry said:

"I will go as far as any man to prevent or punish fraud. If it were under my control I would make ballot-box stuffing and forging election returns treason against the state and punishable by death."

Monster Railroad Enterprise.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Nov. 22.—A monster coal railroad enterprise has been sprung in West Virginia, this time by the Cambdens. The project is a road to begin with a connection with the West Virginia Central and the Pittsburgh railroad, owned by the Davis-Elkins people, and extending through Clarksburg to the Ohio river at Martinsville. It will be a connecting link between the Davis-Elkins interest on the north and the Camden systems, the Ohio River and West Virginia Central and Pittsburgh railroads on the south and west. It will pass through some of the finest coal in the south and tap territory entirely new and never before touched.

Fell and Broke His Neck.

BOSTON, Nov. 22.—Frank E. Godfrey, assistant superintendent of the gymnasium of the Boston Young Men's Christian union, fell and broke his neck last night while working in the gymnasium. He was standing on the shoulders of a companion and trying to turn a somersault in the air from that position.

While in that position he slipped and fell. He was about 25 years old and unmarried. He was also employed at the studio of Kitson, the sculptor, and had served as a model for the statue representing "The Ideal of the American Student," exhibited at the world's fair. He died a few minutes after the accident.

Hazing Condemned.

ANNAPOLIS, Nov. 22.—Captain Philip H. Cooper, the new superintendent of the United States naval academy, issued an order which was read to the battalion of cadets last night, condemning hazing, and announcing that in the future executive clemency will not be exercised in behalf of those dismissed for this offense. Acting on the assumption that each student will tell the truth, the signing of conduct reports certifying to having told the truth, will be discontinued in the future.

Contractor Suicides.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 22.—Conrad Sprenger, a stone contractor, aged 40, committed suicide yesterday afternoon by shooting himself through the brain on his wife's grave in the Homewood cemetery. He died in the police station two hours later. On Nov. 9 his wife took a dose of rough on rats and died the following morning. Domestic troubles was assigned as the cause. Since her suicide the husband has been very despondent.

Miles Takes Command.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—General Nelson A. Miles took command of the military department of the east yesterday. As the general debarked from the tugboat at Governor's Island the usual salute was fired. He was received by all the officers at present stationed on the island and escorted to General Howard's old headquarters where he was introduced to the heads of the different departments.

Death of a German Army Officer.

BERLIN, Nov. 22.—Prince Karl August, hereditary Grand Duke of Saxe-Weimar-Eisenach, died from pneumonia last evening at Cape St. Martin. Prince Karl August was born at Weimar July 31, 1844, and was married Aug. 26, 1873, to Princess Pauline of Saxe-Weimar-Eisenach. He was a cavalry general in the German army.

To Eliminate Professional Athletics.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 22.—President Smart of the Purdue university has sent letters to the presidents of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Chicago, Northwestern and Lake Forest universities, asking for a conference on college athletics looking to the elimination of professionalism.

Behind Their Accounts.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Morris Sellers & Company, dealers in railroad spikes, confessed judgment Tuesday for $25,000. The concern has paper outstanding to the amount of $50,000. A statement of the assets was not obtainable.

The Gold Reserve.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The cash balance in the treasury yesterday was $100,515,728; gold reserve, $59,054,249. This does not include Tuesday's withdrawals, which leave the actual gold reserve at $37,854,249.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., Nov. 22.—Post-office inspectors are working on wholesale frauds being perpetrated on members of the Knights of Pythias all over the country by men who profess to be members of the order and who possess all the signs and grips. The plan is to present bogus orders for sick benefits from lodges in cities far distant from those where the game is worked.

BILL COOK ARRESTED

The Noted Outlaw Has Probably Been Captured.

TAKEN BY TEXAS RANGERS.

He Is Thought to Be One of the Five Men Captured at Mitchell Falls—The Description of the Man Farries, One of the Five, Exactly Corresponds With That of the Notorious Cook.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 22.—A special to The Times from Fort Smith, Ark., says: At the United States marshal's office it is regarded as positive that Bill Cook is under arrest in Texas. He is thought to be one of the five men captured by the Texas rangers at Mitchell Falls. The description of the man Farries, one of the five, exactly corresponds with that of Cook. This is strengthened by the fact that the man who answers the name of Skeeter is an exact counterpart of Baldwin, alias Skeeter, of the Cook gang.

Ever since the Correra hold-up six local detectives have been on the trail of the bandits and have been well-posted as to their movements. A week ago they learned that Cook and a part of his band had gone toward Texas. They used the wires to forward their work, and when they heard of the arrest of the five bandits mentioned, placed great confidence in the belief that the much-wanted outlaws had at last been rounded up. Two of the deputies have gone to Texas to identify the men and bring them in.

Jim Cook Found Guilty.

TAHLEQUAH, I. T., Nov. 22.—The jury in the Jim Cook case yesterday returned a verdict of guilty of manslaughter for killing Sequoyah Houston and sentenced him to eight years in the Cherokee pen.

TO LIMIT COAL OUTPUT.

Hocking and Sunday Creek Operators in Council.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 22.—A meeting was held at the Neil House Wednesday of the coal operators of the Hocking and Sunday Creek valleys. The meeting was for the purpose of effecting a combination which shall limit the output of coal in those regions and sell it. The idea is to apportion a certain amount of production for the year to each mine.

COIT TESTIFIES.

Two Witnesses Examined by the Court of Inquiry.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 22.—The court of inquiry yesterday in the Coit case heard evidence to this effect from Colonel Coit: He was not at the door when the firing occurred. Later he received telephone messages to get his men out, as the house was to be blown up with dynamite.

Colonel Coit laid stress on the fact that the orders to fire in case the doors were broken, or a stone was thrown, or a shot fired at the men, were given by himself. His reasons for keeping the men in the house after the negro had been taken there was to avoid the possibility of stones being thrown at the men, thus necessitating firing by them and perhaps the killing of innocent persons. He also believed the withdrawal of the troops to the house would result in less excitement outside.

In answer to a question relative to the statements that he was intoxicated, Colonel Coit testified that he did not enter a saloon during the day, but on account of being cold in the evening Surgeon Guerin prescribed, not to exceed two table spoonfuls of stimulant, and that was all the liquor he saw or drank at Washington C. H. He did not see any of his men intoxicated, nor did he see liquor in the possession of any of them.

When the order to load was given in the afternoon, the crowd numbered nearly 2,000. They were threatening the lives of Sheriff Cook and himself. The men were given positive orders when they first went there not to enter saloons.

Colonel Coit said he was not given assistance by the local police and that his authority to load and fire was found in the discretion given to commanding officers in the regulations.

Major John G. Speaks of the Columbus battalion of the Fourteenth regiment, O. N. G., was the only other witness examined. He testified that just before the shooting he addressed the crowd from a balcony over the south entrance, at which the shooting was done, warning them of the danger. He stated he also called to the business men across the street to close their stores. His warnings were only partly heeded.

POLYGAMY AMONG INDIANS.

It Is a Common Practice Among the Tribes in New Mexico.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Captain Levi F. Burnet, Seventh cavalry, acting Indian agent at Mescalero, N. M., in a report to Commissioner Browning, sums up an evil among Indians of that agency which is found to prevail to greater or less extent among all western Indians, and more especially among those still in a savage state. He says:

"Another cause of much trouble on this reservation is the frequent marriages among the Indians. It often happens that a man will get tired of his wife after being married a few months and will then leave her or send her home to her relatives. This may occur several times with the same persons, so that a man may have three or four wives and the women as many husbands, all living. Sometimes the husband ill-treats his wife, and she runs away to her parents. They often 'make up' and live together again.

"Several cases have occurred during the past year where parents have induced a man to marry their girl, aged, perhaps, not over 13 or 14 years, for the sole purpose of keeping her out of school. It usually happens that the parties soon separate, the girl returning to her parents, often against the wishes of her husband. This causes serious quarrels. I do all I can to induce these persons to live together when once they are married, but there is no way of compelling them to do so.

The attendance at the convention has been decreased by five delegates, who are compelled to return to their homes. They were excused by Master Workman Sovereign.

There are a number of amendments to the constitution which will come up for consideration within the next day or two. Both sessions yesterday were rather tangled up over the report of the committee on law, and some knotty problems will be met with before the convention adjourns, which will not be before Saturday.

Unlucky Thirteen.

PRINCETON, Ky., Nov. 22.—A party of 13 young people were returning from a tent campmeeting at Otter Pond last night in a hay wagon. When near McGowan, Will Cooksey, driver, drove off a bluff about 12 feet high. Miss Ada Durham, one of the party, was thrown over the bluff with the wagon and the team and sustained spinal injuries that will result in her death. She has been unconscious since the accident. The rest of the party escaped by jumping.

Schooner Sunk.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 22.—The schooner Clara of Baltimore sank last Tuesday night in the Chesapeake bay, off Miller's island light. The crew was ordered to the pumps and worked for several hours but the vessel could not be kept afloat, and she sank in seven feet of water. The schooner Laura B. Robinson was signaled and the captain and his crew was taken on board and brought to Baltimore.

Robbing the Indians.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Nov. 22.—Word has been received here that a gang of gamblers and confidence men from the east have been holding high carnival in the Sac and Fox county. Last week the Sac and Fox Indians were paid their usual annuity of $40,000. The gang of cutthroats and confidence men at the agency was larger and bolder than ever before, and it is alleged by paymasters that the Indians have been literally robbed of more than $20,000.

VOLCANIC ERUPTION.

Mount Ranier Awakening the State of Washington.

SHOCKS OF EARTHQUAKES.

TACOMA Slightly Shaken but No Serious Damage Done—The Peak Has Changed in Appearance and Is Now Shut Out From View by the Smoke—A Cause For the Disturbance.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 22.—Mount Ranier is in a state of mild eruption. The appearance of the summit is entirely changed and another peak has appeared in its center. Soon after sunrise yesterday morning, the sky and air being remarkably clear, clouds of black smoke were seen curling from the southwestern part of the peak, where the crater is located, coming at intervals of about 15 seconds.

The dome-like top had disappeared and been replaced by a flat top, with a large crevasse extending down the side, while in the center of its summit a new peak had appeared on the north side. The snow was nearly gone from the summit, being melted off or fallen. A mass of rock stripped of the white covering could be plainly discerned. Steam is also seen mingling with the smoke, which rose 100 feet above the summit.

Mount Ranier is a cone-shaped peak and stands slightly to the west of the main Cascade range, and five miles southeast of Seattle. It rises 9,000 feet above the range. It has three craters, of which the principal and most perfect is the scene of the recent volcanic disturbance. This crater is half a mile across, while walls of rock 50 feet high and thousands of jets of hot air and steam issue from this rim.

The inside of the crater is filled with snow and ice in, which the smouldering volcano's steam jets have formed innumerable caves, one of which has been penetrated by explorers to a depth of 100 feet, while they have used the steam jets for cooking. It is supposed that the walls of the crater, having been gradually weakened at the base, have fallen, leaving a peak composed of the rock on which the snowy cone, named Columbian Crest, had formed, and that the internal fires thus freed had burst forth in new vigor. The eruption became hidden by clouds soon after 3 p.m.

But a very few people have ever ascended the mountain, and at this season of the year the ascension is an absolute impossibility. There is no way of making a thorough investigation of the phenomenon.

EARTHQUAKE.

TACOMA Slightly Shaken, but No Serious Damage Done.

TACOMA, Nov. 22.—Last night, exactly at 6:30 o'clock, several slight shocks of earthquake were felt here. Windows were rattled throughout the city. The first shock was most severe, being accompanied by rumbling noises as of a distant explosion and simultaneously a sheet of flame was observed in the eastern heavens.

Tacoma looks at the mountain from a different point of view than Seattle. The side near this city, which is covered with one of the largest glaciers in the world, seems to be covered with snow to a greater depth than usual.

Several persons here saw the smoke arising from Mount Ranier yesterday morning. Mrs. Lovell, an Iowa lady, visiting friends, says she saw at 7 o'clock, just before sunrise, a good sized column of smoke arising from the mountain top. Its color was gray. She thought it rose too rapidly to be a cloud.

Professor F. C. Plummer, a local scientist who has made a special study of earthquake phenomena in the northwest, says: "Old Hiaton, the oldest Indian in Puyallup reservation, said through an interpreter before the Tacoma academy of science on Feb. 6, 1893, that he had many times seen fire and smoke coming out of Mount Ranier. This was when he was a boy."

General John C. Fremont reported on Nov. 18, 1843, that Mount Ranier was in eruption. According to Professor Holden of the Lick observatory, a violent eruption of the mountain occurred Oct. 12, 1872, at 6 p.m. In May, 1880, volumes of smoke were observed issuing from the crater. On

ROSSER & McCARTHY,

THURSDAY NOVEMBER 22, 1894.

Fair weather; warmer in extreme norther portion; winds.

DR. PARKHURST having dealt the Tammany boss a knock-out blow, has opened on Mr. Platt, the Republican boss in New York. Go it, Parkhurst.

JUDGE PUGH doesn't seem to appreciate the good work the Public Ledger did for him in the late campaign. Br'er Davis is still waiting for a letter of thanks.

"THERE seems to be a unanimity on the part of the Democratic State press in condemning the secret ballot 'since the landslide on November 6th,' says the Flemingsburg Gazette. The Gazette knows that statement is not true. Five Democratic papers have so far expressed a wish to return to the old viva voice way of voting. Tell the truth.

It took the people of Cincinnati just one week to make a complete flop, politically. On November 6th that city gave a Republican majority of 24,000 and on November 13th, just one week later, the Democratic nominee for Judge of the Insolvency Court defeated his Republican opponent by 3,168 majority. Our Republicans want to remember that it is two years yet before the next President will be chosen.

At the M. and L. Tollgate polls two years ago the vote for Congressman was:

Democratic.....	117	Dem.	Rep.
Republican.....	61
Total.....	178
This year it was:
Democratic.....	116
Republican.....	95
Populist.....	1
Total.....	212

Here's a Democratic loss of 1 (that probably went to the Populists), and a Republican gain of 34. We will wager our last summer's straw hat against a copper that if the editor of the Ledger, or any one else, will search for the next twelve months he will not be able to find 95 legal Republican voters in the bounds of the precinct named.

THE STAY-AT-HOMES.

Mr. Frederick C. Waite, of John Hopkins University, and formerly a statistician of the Census Bureau, has been studying the returns from the late election with interesting results. "To show," says Mr. Waite, "that the Republican farmers did not vote for Cleveland in 1892, I analyzed the election returns, town by town, throughout the rural districts of New York, and discovered that the rural vote for Cleveland was even less in 1892 than in 1888 in every agricultural county in the Empire State. In Ohio it was just the same. Cleveland's vote in 1892 was less than in 1888 in the rural townships of all the agricultural counties. This year the Republicans have not cast as large a percentage of the full vote as in 1888 in a single State." The conclusion, is therefore, that the dissatisfied Republicans in 1892 and the dissatisfied Democrats this year refused to vote.

According to Mr. Waite's figures, the stay-at-home vote in New York has increased from 75,000 in 1888 to 185,000 in 1892 and 425,000 this year; in Pennsylvania, from 70,000 in 1888 to 230,000 in 1892, and to 400,000 this year. It has increased in Ohio from 40,000 in 1888 to 115,000 in 1892, and to 290,000 this year; in Michigan, from 20,000 in 1888 to 105,000 in 1892, and to 240,000 in 1893 and 1894. South Carolina, when she had 50,000 less voters than at present, cast 183,621 votes for Hayes and Tilden. The total vote this year, however, is not much over 60,000, or about one-fourth of the full vote.

It is the stay-at-home party, Mr. Waite shows, which has made such phenomenal gains. "The immense Republican pluralities this year are not the result of an extraordinary Republican vote, but of an exceedingly small Democratic vote. Wisconsin has not polled for the Democratic candidates such a small percentage of her full vote for twenty-five years. In Pennsylvania the Democratic party has not cast on an important election such a small vote for half a century. The astonishing features of the recent election are the same as those of 1892, when 1,000,000 Republican farmers stayed at home, while their Populist brethren cast 1,042,531 votes on the strength of visionary promises. Census and registration statistics disclose the fact that this year the stay-at-home vote numbered about 5,100,000."

Union Thanksgiving Services.

The union Thanksgiving services this year will be held at the First Presbyterian Church, and Rev. Mr. Holt, of the M. E. Church, will preach the sermon.

A CLOSE SHAVE.

Kentucky About Evenly Divided Between the Two Leading Parties in the Congressional Vote.

A special from Frankfort says that all of the official returns are in except those from the county of Campbell, and the figures in the Congressional election of November 6 point a moral and adorn a tale which the Democrats of Kentucky will do well to remember in the future.

A study of the figures will convince the most skeptical that as a matter of fact the Republicans carried the State by a majority of a thousand or so, though the Democrats in a strict party sense have a majority in the State at large. This would not be true, however, if one should allow them to take into account the fact that fully 4,000 Republicans voted for Keys, the Populist candidate in the First district, but as the figures are on the face of the returns, one must hold on to a measly plurality.

The Populists and Prohibitionists have both made such a poor showing that they will have little reason for claiming party distinction in the future, their combined vote being not much over 20,000.

The Democratic vote two years ago was 174,559, and the Republican 121,858. This year the vote was: Democratic, 156,809, Republican, 154,054. This shows a Democratic loss of 17,750 and a Republican gain of 32,196 this year. The Campbell County vote is not included in these figures.

The total vote two years ago was 321,702. This year it is 330,623.

The vote by districts was as follows:

Districts.	Dem.	Rep.
First	13,902	2,701
Second	13,453	10,481
Third	14,114	16,645

KEYS AND CEDAR HILL.

Comments of County Superintendent Blatterman on the Public Schools at the Points Named.

KEY SCHOOL HOUSE, DISTRICT NO. 58.

The trustees are W. H. Rice, James Key and Thomas Best. Key school house is situated on the south prong of the Horshoe pike. After a pleasant drive in the early part of the day, we arrived expecting to be greeted by a crowd of happy faces, but we found only Mr. Charles Wells, the teacher, and Mr. Berry, a carpenter, busily engaged in making necessary repairs and cleaning up the tobacco quids and other nuisances left by a crowd who had assembled to listen to the distinguished orators from Maysville the night previous, whose oratorial outbursts astounded the natives and nearly "busted" the school house. The silvery tones still lingered upon the ambient air. The turkeys remained upon their roost, entranced and seemingly unwilling to "come off their perch." Mules and "tariff mules" stood in bunches in the fields with their heads together and seemed to be discussing the uncertainty and the unreliability of man—for why, they thought, can these meetings be necessary if the Democrats stand by their pledge given through the primary election? A mule might well wonder how man, his master, can violate a solemn pledge.

Then the "tariff mules" seemed to be cogitating and puzzled to understand why the Senate did not pass the Wilson bill, or else let the McKinley bill stand, and why they passed that hermaphrodite tariff bill which Cleveland was too honest and patriotic to sign and which brought disaster. We jogged along until we arrived at District No. 54 (Cedar Hill), so called because there are no cedars within ten miles excepting in some person's yard. There may be a few solitary orphaned cedars. Not much can be said of this school excepting that the instruction by Mr. H. M. Ruggles is very satisfactory. The school house is beyond description, but fortunately we have two excellent, energetic trustees, Mr. John McDaniel and Mr. U. R. McDaniel, who are at work to have a good house very soon. There is a vacancy in this board of trustees which no one seems willing to fill, but the two trustees will carry forward the good work. There is some opposition in the district to building, but when the house is finished and filled with happy school children, this opposition will cease and every one in the district will rejoice.

Assessment of Whisky Reduced.

The State Board of Valuation and Assessment composed of the Secretary of State, Auditor and Treasurer, Tuesday morning reduced the valuation on whisky from $1 to $10 per barrel. The valuation was fixed at $11 some time ago, but a commission, representing the Distillers' Association of Kentucky, filed a statement asking a reduction to $8 per barrel, claiming that the whisky was worth no more. The valuation for several years was $8 per barrel, but last year was increased to $11.

VANCEBURG, LEWIS COUNTY.

Quite a number of people are talking of taking in the excursion on the C. and O. railroad on the 28th.

I hope we will not experience another cyclone soon coming from the same direction the last one came.

Our town has been very quiet since the election. Vanceburg was struck by the cyclone as well as other places.

The farmers are getting in their corn and stripping tobacco. Corn, wheat and tobacco so far as I can learn are very good in this country.

A new distillery here is almost ready to start up. It is to be operated by our townsman, G. K. Cole, and a gentleman from Falmouth, whose name your correspondent has not learned. He is the gentleman who was elected Circuit Court Clerk for Pendleton County at the late election.

Monday was regular County Court day for this county and also stock sale day. There was quite a lot of stock on the market, both horses and cattle, and quite a number changed hands. These sale days bring quite a number of people to town, some to see and to be seen, others to sell or purchase stock. As a general rule stock sells quite low in price.

Fulton-Ryan Nuptials.

The Catholic Church at Mayslick Thursday evening, November 15th, was the scene of a pretty wedding, the contracting parties being Mr. P. F. Fulton and Miss Catherine Ryan. Mr. Fulton is a thrifty young farmer of Mayslick vicinity, and is to be congratulated on winning such a fair lady for his partner in life. Many heartfelt good wishes will follow them that all happiness and prosperity may be theirs through long years.

CHARGED WITH GRAVE ROBBERY.
Six Students and the Dean of a Medical College Arrested.

OMAHA, Nov. 22.—A special to The Bee from Lincoln, Neb., says: Six students and the dean of the medical faculty of Cottner University were under arrest at the police station last night charged with grave robbery. Their names are D. R. Mechan, A. S. Rose, D. B. Roberts, James Ward and Dean R. J. Alexander. Late Wednesday Otto Albers died in the city. On Thursday the body was buried in Wyuka cemetery.

Friday last Superintendent Beyer discovered through one of his assistants that the grave of Albers had been rifled and the body carried away. Suspicion was at once attached to some medical college connected with one of the universities. Superintendent Beyer placed detectives on the case. Last night they rounded up a party of medical students at the lecture room at Cottner university. Dean Alexander was about to illustrate his lecture by a practical exhibition of dissection and had applied the knife to the cadaver when a detective came in on them and placed the whole medical class under arrest.

This occurred about 10 o'clock yesterday evening. The whole party was brought to the police station, where a preliminary examination was held by Acting County Judge Wurzburg. The prisoners were released on bonds of $500 each to appear for trial. Two more students suspected of being implicated in the vandalism are being watched.

WEDDING DAY SET.

The Czar of Russia Will Be Married Next Monday.

It is reported that the czar was disappointed by the apparent coolness of the residents of St. Petersburg. When he discovered the reason he reprimanded the chief of police for ordering windows to be closed and balconies and roofs not to be occupied on the day Czar Alexander's body arrived in the city and on the day of the funeral.

JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY'S charm for the cure of corns is a recipe well worth knowing, and it is perhaps interesting, too, as a bit of Hoosier folk-lore:

Prune your corn in the gray of the morn,
With a blade that's shaved the dead,
And barefoot go and hide it so.

The rain will rust it red;
Dip your foot in the dew and put
A print of it on the floor,
And strew the fat of a bridle cat,

And say this o'er and o'er:

Corny! morny! blady! dead!
Gory! sorey! rusty! red!
Footsy! pusy! foaly! stew!

Fatzy! catzy!
Mew!
Mew!

Come grease my corn
In the gray of the morn!
Mew! mew! mew!

BAD NEWS FOR REPUBLICANS.

Life Jobs Are to Be Given to Democratic Storekeepers and Gaugers.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 21.—Appointment Clerk Kretz, of the Treasury Department, has a force of clerks at work to-day preparing a list of all the employees of the internal revenue in the various districts of the country for the use of the Civil Service Commission.

This list is being prepared in anticipation that President Cleveland intends extending the jurisdiction of civil service rules over the internal revenue service.

Mr. Cleveland is undecided whether to place the entire service under the civil service at one step, or whether to begin with the gaugers, then storekeepers, and thus gradually extend the scope of his order.

In view of the recent disclosures at Pittsburg and in Baltimore it is more than likely that he will not include the whole service in one order, lest some of his Collectors of Internal Revenue may feel disposed to incontinently dismiss Republicans that may remain in the service, and fill their places with Democrats before the Presidential order is promulgated.

This order if issued will be the most important one relating to the extension of the civil service rules issued during Mr. Cleveland's administration.

It will affect between four and five thousand places, ranging in salaries from $2,000 to $400 per year.
